Umpire Techniques

Judgement: Your use of sound judgment in applying the rules to the given situation may even be more important than knowing the rules. Get clear in your mind as the game's enforcer of the rules that it is up to you to handle all the game situations by your interpretation of the rules and ensuring that those interpretations will provide fair competition for the teams involved. Through your experience, exercising self control, and using sound judgment will enable you to manage any situation that occurs enabling you to keep the game moving and on schedule.

Technique: Lack of technique is the difference between the best of amateurs and any professional. The polished umpire is never caught out of position. Umpiring calls for complete attention and energy for the entire game. Hustle in essence is the application of the principles of good umpiring. Technique consists of being in the right place at the right time, making calls effectively, staying out of the way of the players, along with strict attention to detail. You can increase your reputation as a highly respected umpire if you can master where you need to be and hustling to get there. Remember that you cannot make a good call until the play has been completed. Remember, Great umpires come to the ballpark to work and give the teams their best! Great umpires don't watch the game, they CALL the game!

Knowledge of the Rules: A working knowledge of the playing rules is expected of every official. Umpires must devote time to reading and study of the rule book. The more games you work, the more competent you become in interpreting the rules and the given situations.

Pre-Game Umpire Preparation: As you meet with your partner in the pre-game preparation make sure you at least discuss the following: 1) Any Special League or Tournament rules. 2) Go over any special ground rules. 3) Discuss foul/ fair ball coverage and dead ball area coverage. 4) Base coverage; out-safe; tag-up responsibility; leaving base too soon; how appeals will be handled. 5) legal/ illegal bats. 6) Pitching rules. 7) Communication. 8) Discuss signals. 9) Appeal plays.

Pre-Game Managers Meeting: Know your Ballpark. Arrive 30 minutes before the game. Make sure the field is properly marked with bases & pitching distances legal and in proper distance. Both umpires should walk the field and set ground rules together. Discuss coverage and proper tag up calls with your partner. Both umpires need to agree on the signals to be used to assist in making calls. Don't get caught up in just signaling your partner. If a partner does not acknowledge a signal, then VERBALIZE IT! It's far better to attract the attention of your partner by vocalization than to let a play potentially go uncovered. Remember it is also better to admit to your partner before the game starts that you do not know or are unsure about something or not sure how to rule on a situation during play.

Then 5 minutes before game time meet with the coaches introducing yourself and your partner. Making sure you know and remember the first name of the coaches. Calling a coach by his first name puts you on a more personal human level. It can and will help reduce heated confrontations on close calls in a close game. Next cover ground rules, batting order, official scorebook, starting time and time limits. Make sure to be friendly and answer questions in a professional manner. Make sure the meeting is short & handled professionally. Wish everyone present good luck and let's PLAY BALL.

Responsibilities during a Game: Be neat in your appearance on the Ball field. Shirts tucked in, Umpire hats worn correctly, wear a belt with pants or shorts, and wear black shoes. The first appearance makes a big impression to everyone at the park. Don't go out on the field with a chip on your shoulder because you can get more out of a player by being human and civil. A thorough knowledge of the pitching rules is essential. Umpires are to judge plays and to preserve undeviating neutrality toward all the players. Umpires must decide all plays fairly and impartially. AVOID mingling with the players. Your sole duty is to umpire a ball game and represent Broken Arrow Adult Softball Club at Indian Springs & Challenger Sports Complex. Keep in mind that your conduct and actions are for settling controversies and NOT starting them. Give rule interpretations quickly and courteously, but refrain from general conversation and discussion of plays and players. You are there to judge plays, NOT players. You are there to advertise and represent yourself, your profession, our softball program and most of all the game of softball.

The Plate Umpire: Will be involved in nearly every play in the game, dictating that you stay alert and hustle on every pitch. Your primary calls will include balls & strikes, illegal pitches, and appeals. Try and develop a rhythm and consistency to the game to keep it moving and exciting.

Don't take any guff from the catcher or the pitcher. Do not call balls & strikes too quickly. Follow the ball at all times. Be sure that 3rd base is covered in a run-down situation and be certain to cover 3rd base when your partner is properly covering 1st & 2nd base.

The Field Umpire: Watch all tag plays. Keep the players hustling at all times. Back up your partner on all rulings of fair or foul balls. Call WITH him on the infield fly. The plate umpire will make the majority of the decisions. Your primary responsibility is 1st & 2nd base. Be close enough on a double play, yet stay out of the players way. Be on your toes at all times, know where the ball is and work your angles on the bases. The proper angle will have the ball, the bag and the runner in view. Watch the tag on a slide, make sure the base is in view. In force outs, let the ball turn you toward the play. Remember, everything starts with the ball.

Umpire Social Media Guidelines

Social media has become a huge part of our world and is a platform for everyone to voice their opinion, in a positive way, a negative way and a way to find out information in real time. Social media is changing the way we communicate on a daily basis. It certainly has taken the place of sharing information face to face. We should all communicate thru social media with the same values, ethics, and respect as we would if we were talking face to face with friends, co-workers, neighbors and even the people in our community that we may not know.

Broken Arrow Adult Softball Umpires & Directors, as members of any National Governing Body of Softball, should exercise care in setting appropriate boundaries between their personal and very public online behavior, understanding that what is private in the digital world often has the possibility of becoming public, even without their knowledge or consent. Broken Arrow Adult Softball expects all members acting as independent contractors to review the privacy settings on any social media sites they use and exercise caution and good judgment when posting content and information on these social media sites.

BASIC PRINCIPLES

- Integrity is an invaluable quality and must be treated as such: Please avoid writing or posting anything that would embarrass you, this program, the Game and your ability to do your job.
- Assume that your professional life and your personal life will merge online regardless of your care in separating them.
- Assume that everything you write, exchange or receive on a social media site is public.
- Be aware of perceptions when joining groups on one side of a debate.

THE DO'S OF SOCIAL MEDIA

- Think twice before you post. If there is anything in your post that could be construed as a criticism of officials, or officials' decisions, or of leagues, tournaments, teams, directors, coaches or athletes..... it's better left unsent.
- Be very sparing in the sharing of your personal information, including photos, surroundings and settings accordingly. Report fake profiles or posts to the appropriate authorities.

- Do remember to keep things positive if you post information on these sites. If you come home from a game wherein everything went smoothly, it is okay to post about it. You could say "I had a great softball game tonight. Both teams had a great time and showed great sportsmanship!"
- Do use social media as a means for sharing information with members of your local association. This can be a great mechanism for information dissemination and can also be a page for recognition of group members and to give potential members a first look at becoming a softball Umpire.
- Do use social media as a recruitment tool.

THE DON'TS OF SOCIAL MEDIA

- Do not post any disparaging comments about players, coaches, teams, leagues, tournaments, fans or fellow Umpires online. (The administration, Board members, and staff of Broken Arrow Adult Softball is very approachable and available to hear any of your concerns within this program)
- Do not advertise where you are umpiring at any time.
- Avoid posting specifics about your schedule.
- Do not post specifics about your games, whether good or bad.
- Do not start posting online after you have had a rough game. (Talk it out with your partner/ UIC on duty or the park manager after the games are over.)
- Do not post regarding calls made by Umpires in other games, whatever the level. You and other Umpires might debate face to face the call you may have seen, but debating the call on Facebook or twitter is a no-no.
- Do not post any inappropriate pictures, statements or emails of yourself on any social media site.

DIRECTOR or UMPIRE MEDICAL SHEET

NOTE: This sheet is intended for use during current NSA-BPA Tournament Season. DATE: _____
ALL information is and will remain confidential. We wish to avoid situations that could delay medical treatment if possible.
In the past, we have had no history or emergency contact info. If you decide to utilize this sheet, you should destroy it after this current season, and you will need to fill one out every year. Please update if any of your information changes! We would like to be prepared to assist you in an emergency.

IF YOU WISH NSA/BPA to have this available to us at tournament sites, please bring a copy in a SEALED envelope with YOUR NAME & "UMPIRE MEDICAL SHEET" on the front to EACH Tournament you are working.
Please make sure to inform the UTC or TD and even other umpires if you have this form with you in your umpire bag. Thank you.
