THE CANADIAN CENTRE FOR ETHICAL SPORT - Canadians want sport to be ethical and fair for all athletes. The CCES is the custodian of Canada's antidoping initiative and is working to create an environment that matches the expectations of Canadians. To contribute to values-based sport for Canadians, and to help level the global playing field, the CCES manages the Canadian Anti-Doping Program (CADP), which is the set of rules that govern doping control in Canada. Compliant with the World Anti-Doping Code and all international standards, the CADP describes how the program is carried out and details the process of results management. It also sets the education standard for values-based sport in Canada.

It is FIFA's responsibility to protect players from harm and ensure that footballers can compete on an even playing field. Since FIFA is dealing with ambitious and independent individuals, its anti-doping strategy relies on education and prevention. FIFA respects the dignity and private life of each player who is subject to testing.
