Mission & Expectations:

STP is a summer development program for boys going into 8th-12th grade focused on developing skills of current and future Rebel high school hockey players. This skill development, both on and off ice, will prepare players for the demands of excelling in high school hockey. The goal of this camp is to raise every skater's skill level and create team camaraderie. This camp will provide players an excellent opportunity to have fun while improving the essential skills needed to be successful.

Training will focus on improving your son's overall strength and speed in a variety of ways. We will focus on the development of upper and lower body power along with a number of core and balancing exercises to improve overall stability and strength while on the ice. Players will also work on agility, flexibility, and quickness to improve their overall game along with shooting and stickhandling. We will incorporate overspeed skating drills, competition drills, and small area games that will all be skill based to improve your sons overall game!
