About Team Herro & Let It Rain Foundation

The Let It Rain Foundation was created as the nonprofit arm of Team Herro Girls, born from a growing need to support the girls and families in our communities. The foundation was established with a vision and goal to support not only our athletes (travel, uniforms, tournament fees) – but our mission evolved into something even greater: to set a new standard for what youth sports can do, to set ourselves apart from the crowd.

Through our organization we are committed to building a stronger, more resilient future by empowering youth and women through sport, community, and support systems that matter.

Our mission is to ignite opportunity, foster resilience, and nurture overall wellness—especially for women and families navigating generational challenges.

Our focus is simple but powerful:

- Youth empowerment through sport
- Mental health and emotional wellness, especially for women and girls
- Family-centered support for those facing financial or systemic challenges
- Giving back - encouraging our athletes to be leaders in service, not just sport

Our goal is not just to build great athletes, but to build great leaders. We believe that access to sport and supportive resources should not depend on financial status. Let It Rain is about leveling the playing field—on and off the court.
