MFLL Code of Conduct

Players

The code of conduct requires that players exhibit exemplary behavior during Little League activities. Players must respect umpires, coaches, managers and other players and demonstrate good sportsmanship. Players pledge not to use alcohol, drugs or tobacco products while participating in Little League activities.

Managers and Coaches

Little League requires managers and coaches to consistently present a professional image, which includes appearance and behavior, during all league activities. The code of conduct calls for league officials to display enthusiasm, respect, honesty and fair play. Managers and coaches must follow all league game rules, encourage appropriate behavior by players and fans, maintain a safe game environment and consider the physical and emotional well-being of players above all else. Some local codes detail the responsibilities of league officials to manage the overall game environment and instill in players the league's principles. Managers and coaches agree not to use tobacco, drugs or alcohol while involved in league activities.

Parents

The code charges parents with demonstrating exemplary behavior at all times during Little League activities. Parents should remember the volunteer-status of board members, coaches and managers and respect all officials and players. Little League asks that parents help to keep playing fields safe and clean. Parents agree to refrain from using tobacco, alcohol or drugs in or around Little League functions. Please remember that children are looking to you as an example of good behavior at sporting events.

Spectators

The Menomonee Falls Little League, like many local Little Leagues, publishes a code of conduct for parents, coaches and spectators to manage the environment in which Little Leaguers play. The code prohibits unsportsmanlike conduct, disrespect of League officials, unofficial coaching and verbal abuse of players, such as ridicule and booing. Violation of the MFLL code of conduct results in ejection from the game and could lead to forfeiture by the offending team.
